

Richterportrait

Sara Cross-Moore

I was first introduced to Tibetan Terriers as a young child when my mother bought our foundation bitch Galigang Kangri or Yeti as she was known in 1967. Yeti was a tremendous character and I think you could say we were hooked as we have never been without them since.

I have always enjoyed showing dogs and over the years have bred and made up many Champions and successful show dogs in England. I have also sent dogs to many other Countries who have gone on to become Champions and have proved to be very successful breeding stock for their new owners.

I first started judging at open show level when I was 13, moving on to Championship level in 1988. I have awarded CCs on many occasions in England including Crufts and both Breed Club Shows. I have also judged Breed Club Championship Shows in Finland, Denmark, Holland and Germany on more than one occasion. I also judged at the world congress in America in 2003.